EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

OCTOBER 12, 2025 NIKE MELBOURNE MARATHON FESTIVAL

Jack Rayner set the MCG alight with a blistering time of 02:15:02 to claim victory in the 2025 Nike Melbourne Marathon and headlining another record-setting year for Melbourne's premier running event.

Rayner was the first of 14,500 in the Nike Melbourne Marathon category to cross the finish line at the iconic MCG on Sunday, with 50,000 total participants registered from across Australia and around the world, doing their part to help the event become renowned as the World's Most Encouraging Festival. Buoyed by a flood of encouraging cheers, Rayner outpaced their competition on the 42.195km course finishing one minute and 40 seconds ahead of runner-up Steven McKenna (02:16.42), and Fraser Darcy (02:17.38) in third position.

Caitlin Adams took out the Nike Melbourne Marathon Women's category in her debut, with a time of 02:30.26. "I'm feeling on top of the world right now, I'm sure this feeling will carry me across the next few days, it's going to be hard to sink in but to win Melbourne on debut, I love this event, I'm absolutely stoked," said Adams.

The Nike Half Marathon saw Hatfu Strintzos finish first overall with a time of 01:02.13, as Izzi Batt-Doyle took out the Women's category, clocking in at 01:08.55 and setting a new record for the race. Adding to the list of high calibre Australian winners was Adam Goddard winner of the SriLankan Airlines 10km Run (28.40) for the men, and Ellie Pashley has made a successful return to competitive racing, winning the Women's 10km (33.41). Up and coming duo Harrison Baxter (14.36) and Abbie Reid (16.09) won the Dairy Farmers 5km Run for the men and women respectively. Ian Gaaney (03:24.49) and Sharnie Digby (03:25:27) won the Nike Wheelchair Marathon.

While some of Australia's best long-distance runners lit-up the course, tens of thousands of runners embraced the world's first initiative of sharing their own personal messages of encouragement on their backs resulting in one of the most connected Festivals to date.

The energy from spectators, volunteers, and participants transformed the streets of Melbourne into a celebration of perseverance, inclusion, and community.

This year we set out with the goal of becoming the World's Most Encouraging Festival, and after seeing some of the messages of support and acts of sportsmanship today, we've gone a long way to achieving that goal.

The success of the 2025 event reflects the growing momentum behind running in Australia and the strength of our partnerships with Nike, government, volunteers, and the broader community. The Nike Melbourne Marathon Festival has firmly established itself as a 'must-do' event on both the national and international running calendar.

We are proud of what was achieved in 2025 and look forward to building on this momentum as we plan for continued growth and innovation in 2026 and beyond.
